ST. JOSEPH'S COLLEGE

By Madelyn Arrich

The Class of 1993

After receiving my nursing degree, I thought about returning to school to obtain my Bachelor's degree. Over the years, I had even enrolled in several collegiate programs. I found them to invariably be large institutions, where I was known by my I.D. number, and where I could walk through a sea of unfamiliar faces, before I could find one friendly face I recognized.

However, several co-workers who began attending St. Joseph's College gave me glowing reports about the school. With the feeling of "here I go again," I walked in to the General Studies office and received a real surprise. There at the receptionist's desk sat Sadie McMillan, and she was smiling. Then I met Suzanne Trappier, and as she extended her hand to greet me, she was smiling too. I knew instinctively this was the place for me, and I enrolled at Saint Joseph's.

Among the instructors I have been fortunate to have, during my time here, have been Rupert Campbell, calm, caring, and concerned, and Hayward Gill, who was always involved with his students. With a twinkle in his eye, he made learning fun and educational. Yvonne Greatheart - whose name says it all - although in the midst of great adversity always extended herself to her students. Bob Dunn was always eager to listen, to empathize, and to take that extra step for the betterment of his students. Anthony Summers, stern of manner, and large of heart, was always eager to impart his knowledge of the health care system, and not to forget Daniel Beni, whose kind, quiet manner, and caring acceptance, encouraged me to freely explore, to question, and to learn.

Upon reflection, I have so many wonderful memories to take with me as I prepare to graduate in June: memories of counselors, instructors, and students, with whom I have shared a very large part of my life over the last few years. My time at Saint Joseph's has taught me that acquiring an education can be a desirous growing experience - and not the impersonal event that I knew it to be. This knowledge has led me to the determination to continue my education and to earn my Master's degree.

To The Graduates of 1993,

While graduation from college is always a significant event, it is especially so when the graduate is an adult with family and professional responsibilities. In your years at St. Joseph's, you have taken upon yourself a task of great magnitude. You worked long hours and made great sacrifices.

From the vantage point of completion, you have an accurate sense of all that you put into this effort as well as a keen insight into the many good things that have transpired during this time. As a person you have grown. Professionally, you have acquired knowledge which will enable you to make an even greater contribution to society and, never to be underestimated, you have a clearer appreciation for all the love and support provided by your family, friends, and teachers.

Once again, I want to extend special appreciation to Daniel Beni and S. Carole Lessard for their tireless efforts to make this our eleventh yearbook, a standard for the future. They join me in the hope that Achievements 1993 will rekindle fond memories of a time now past — but not forgotten.

Congratulations.

Victor Brown, Chairperson of Health Administration, makes a telling point to his class in International Health Systems.

Anthony Summers, Preceptor in Health Administration, helps a student prepare a report.

Rupert Campbell, Coordinator of Business Programs, lectures on the legal aspects of health care systems.

Daniel Beni, Preceptor In Health Administration and Achievements Coordinator

To The Graduating Class of 1993,

The development of a great yearbook requires the efforts and unique talents of many individuals. I would like to express deep appreciation to all those who contributed to the realization of this, our eleventh yearbook. In particular, I need to thank Madelyn Arrich, Vida Brobbey, Marsha Griffin, Christine Masucci, Steven Odam and Deborah Walker for their thoughtful contributions.

I also owe thanks to Sister Carole Lessard and Sadie McMillan, whose support has made ACHIEVEMENTS '93 a singular success.

I salute the graduates of 1993. May all of your achievements be bright and bold and the memories you have had here last a lifetime.

Cordially,

Daniel Beni

A FOUNDATION FOR THE FUTURE

By Steven Odam
The Class of 1993

As a result of my studies at Saint Joseph's College, I have gained a greater understanding of my role as an urban police officer in society, through self-analysis and an increased comprehension of the underlying causes that create some of the social conditions which I face in the community. Each day I have gained perspective and the ability to make well thought-out and informed decisions. I also now have developed a greater empathy for those I serve and a greater appreciation of and tolerance for the diverse cultural and ethnic groups that make up New York City's beautiful mosaic.

AN INVITATION TO LEARNING

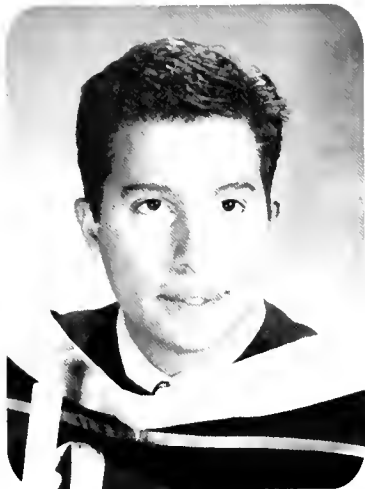

By Marsha Ruth Paris Griffin
The Class of 1993

UPON OPENING MY MAILBOX -
ON ONE OF MY "NOT-SO-HAPPY DAYS,"
ST. JOSEPH'S SAID, "COME."
I CAME. I SAW. I CONQUERED.
I CAME TO A PLACE OF LEARNING,
I SAW - INSTRUCTORS WHO CARE,
I CONQUERED - WHAT I DESIRED
TO ACHIEVE.
NOW - I AM MORE THAN A CONQUEROR.
I AM HAPPY, I AM BLESSED.

My EXPERIENCES AT ST. JOSEPH'S COLLEGE

By Christine Masucci Anderson
The Class of 1993

My experiences of College, at St. Joseph's, have been all positive and dynamic. St. Joseph's provided me with flexible scheduling and an array of courses that met my needs as a working professional. The dynamic teaching styles of professors Yvonne Greatheart, Corinne Gamper, Daniel Beni and Maude Robinson, in particular, energized me to pursue and achieve my educational goals.

A GATEWAY TO LIFE

By Vida Brobbey
The Class of 1993

Although I live in the Bronx, I have always looked forward, with great anticipation, to attending my classes at St. Joseph's College. I have developed critical thinking and problem solving skills, and am now more non-judgmental in my professional decisions. In particular, I found Adults In Transition to truly be a gateway to a more meaningful life. I recommend it to everyone.

Long live St. Joseph's College!

A WARM COMMUNITY

By Deborah Walker
The Class of 1993

The environment at St. Joseph's College is that of a small and caring community. The instructors and staff are supportive, and understanding of the adult learner with job and family responsibilities. Everyone is willing to go that extra mile to help you reach your goals. As I prepare to graduate in June, I know I will miss the warmth of St. Joseph's College.
